

Stacks of experience.

The team at Principal Resourcing encompass the key elements of education recruitment: expertise, local knowledge and experience. With over 30 years experience collectively we are leading the way in the provision of quality supply teachers and support staff in the local region.

One of our dedicated experienced consultants will work with you to find the best solutions to your staffing issues, be it for one day or a full term. Their experience in placing the right teacher in the right school is second to none. We will take time to establish details such as behaviour policy, the schools' ethos etc so we can be sure of the type of candidate that you are looking for.

With our stringent selection process you can be assured that we are confident in being able to find the staff member that you are looking for.

There will be occasional times of course when we are not able to fulfil your requirements. Unlike some agencies, we won't try and pass off a teacher as something they are not. We will be perfectly honest regarding what experience they have and how suitable we think they would be for the position you are looking to fill.

The decision is then yours: we firmly believe that honesty is ALWAYS the best policy.
